The paper has done 50 things for you and is only anxious to do 50 more. It told your friends when your parents were married.

It announced to the world when you were born.

It recorded the great events of your childhood, when you were lost as a wandering baby, when you had the meaelrs, and scarlet fever, when you fell into the washtub and nearly drowned, when you fell from the cherry tree and broke your collar bone, when you first started to school and when you earned you first prize.

Later on it told how you had completed the studies of the district school and how eloquently you recited your graduating oration.

It told of your entering high school or academy. It told of your contests in baseball and tennis. It told of your departure for college or your first venture in business.

It told of your various visits back to the old home neighborhood, and it always wished you well in your greatest undertakings.

It hinted modestly about the cfirst time you went a courting and gave timely warning to "her folks" that the neighbors knew that matters were growing interesting over their way.

pected wedding, and it published the ding ceremony.

It told of your extended honeymoon tour and of your selting down to house

When you were sick, the home paper week by week informed your more distant neighbors of your lapses and improvements. It told about your lost cow and led to her recovery! It told how your horse had been stolen and led to the arrest of the thief. When you were getting dull and tired through the monotony of your labor, the paper urged that the people get up a celebration, and you were named as the one of a suitable committee on arrangements. And when it was allover, it gave you just praise for the success of the undertaking.

In numerous ways the paper has helped to put your name before the people. And you would never heve had your lucrative office or your henor able recognition from the community but for the kind aid of the local prin-

WHEN EDISON WAS YOUNG.

"I was an operator in the Memphis once when Thomas Edison applied to Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to the manager for a position," said A. G. $1.00 per bottle. Rockfellow, a member of the Reminiscence Club that was in session at the Landell. "He came walking into the office one morning looking like a veri- make.' table hayseed.

"He wore hickory shirt, a pair of butternut pants, tucked into the tops of boots a size too large and guiltless of blacking. 'Where's the boss?' was his query as he glanced around the office. No one replied at once and he repeated the question. The manager asked him what he could do for him. The future great inventor proceeded to strike him for a job. Business was rushing, and the office was two men short, so almost any kind of lightning P ck. slinger was welcome.

"He was assigned to a desk, and a fusilade of winks went the rounds of the office for the 'jay' was put on the St. Lois wire, the hardest in the office. At the end of the wire was an operator who was chain lightning, and knew it. Edison had hardly got seated before St. Louis started in on a long report, and he pumped it in like a house afire.

Edison threw his leg over the arm of his chair, leisurely transferred a wad of spruce gum from his pocket to his mouth, picked up a pen, examined it critically and started in about 200 words behind. He didn't stay there long, though St. Louis let out another link of speed, and still another, and the instrument on Edison's table hummed like an old-style Singer sewing machine.

Every man in the office left his desk and gathered around the 'jay' to see what he was doing with the electric cyclone. Well, sir, he was right on the word, and was putting it right down in the prettiest copp r pale hand you lever saw, even crossing his t's, dotting his i's and punctuating with as much care as a man editing telegraph for 'rat' printers. St. Louis got tired by and by and began to slow down. Edison opened the ker, and said, "Here, here! I's is no primer class! Get a hustle on oul' Well, sir
